

JOSHUA DARED TO SPEAK UP FOR GOD

Just before the people of Israel were about to enter the promised land, they sent out twelve spies to see what the land and its people were like. Out of the twelve spies, only Joshua and Caleb were brave enough to speak up and say that the Lord would keep his promise and give them the land. Later, when Joshua was an old man and near death, he told the people, "You know that the Lord has kept every promise he ever made to you."

